

Don Quijote
Man of La Mancha

Don Quijote's World	Real World
Don Quijote =	Alonso Quijana
Sancho = Squire	Sancho = poor peasant
Rosinante = strong and valiant	old + weak
Dulcinea	Aldonza = Kitchen maid / prostitute
a giant = un gigante	los molinos (the windmills)
un castillo =	an inn un hostel
Silk gossamer, Silk scarf	Rag from Aldonza as a token dark knight and damsel in distress =	Antonia <sup>niece</sup> + fiancée
barber's basin (una palanguna de afeitar) =	the Golden Helmet of Mambrino

- The movie starts with Cervantes/actors acting out a scene from the Spanish Inquisition. It is ironic because ... the real Inquisitions people come and arrest him.
- Cervantes is taken to a dungeon. He is put on trial by the prisoners and is charged with...
- He pleads guilty.
  - ① an idealist
  - ② a bad poet
  - ③ + an honest man
- The movie Man of La Mancha is a story-within-a-story because...

Cervantes is telling the story of Don Quijote (the author)
- That is different from the book because in the book...

an imaginary character found the manuscript, doesn't have Cervantes in the book
- The character Don Quijote's real name is Alonso Quijana. He got <sup>the</sup> that name Da because...

he named himself that when he took on his "knight" persona.
